PREVENTATIVE MAINTENANCE PAYS

Make plans to change early: completely overhauled control technology with full warranty

The perfect interaction of various components provides for the performance and reliability of your Vecoplan® machines. But the lifetime of the frequency converters can suffer because of different influences for example temperature or ripple currents.

In order to minimize downtime, we offer you the time-saving replacement of a completely overhauled frequency converter.

We take back your frequency converter with high service hours and provide a fully reworked frequency converter in exchange. The package also includes a 15-month warranty and allows you to save half of the potential cost of new equipment. Plan ahead, in order to carry out the changeover with the shortest possible downtime.
